FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

"Jesus was tempted by Satan, and the angels ministered to him" (Mark 1:12)

On Ash Wednesday we began the season of Lent. The liturgy reminded of the challenges to "repent and believe in the Gospel". The text of Matthew that day invited us to practice the three fundamental pillars of a true conversion: prayer, fasting and almsgiving. The ashes we received that day are a reminder of the Lenten spirit that leads a union with the God of life and our neighbors. Therefore lent is the propitious time to repent before God who is the One who has power over sin and death for our sins and promise to convert us to His designs of love and life for all. As we begin the first week of Lent, let us take these words to heart. In the first reading it speaks of the covenant between God and Noah. Like every Old Testament covenant, both parties undertake something to comply with what has been agreed. The flood, the destruction and death that refer to the book of Genesis were the consequence of the sin of mankind. It is interesting that in this first primitive covenant twice God repeats "never again shall all flesh be cut off by the waters of a flood, and never again shall there be a flood to destroy the earth," The promise of God enables our life and at the same time becomes a challenge to remain faithful to God's commandments. For the Apostle Peter, second reading, God's salvation in the Old Testament with Noah and his family it is but a prefiguration of true salvation is granted to us in the waters of baptism in Christ Jesus. According to the 1 Peter, "Christ suffered for sins once for all, the righteous for the unrighteous, in order to bring you to God." These 40 days of penance should not only be a time to temporarily stop something that does not help us to follow the path of Jesus, but a time of grace that leads us to the salvation by good works. Like Jesus, we enter in the desert of our lives to resist sin and to start doing good. Therefore, comfort one another and walk together on this path of faith and prayer that the Church proposes. This short fragment of the Gospel of Mark refers to Jesus being tempted in the desert. These 40 days of Jesus are a preparation for His mission to "save many." Jesus teaches us with his own life that in the solitude of our lives we can unite with His Father God through prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Pope Francis in his 2018 Lenten message proposes the "the sweet remedy of prayer" as the way to make that "our hearts discover the secret lies with which we deceive ourselves." According to Pope Francis, just from that prayerful silence you can find "finally the consolation of God." The desire of the Pope is that "almsgiving became an authentic lifestyle that expresses it with the conviction that charity helps us to discover that the other one is my brother and sister and never what I have is mine." In fasting, Pope Francis recommends to give meaning to the traditional practice of fasting during Lent as a gesture that "weakens our violence, disarms us, and constitutes an important opportunity to grow." Fr. Hernan P., S.J.
